Pierce O'Callaghan – RunBritain Business Manager

The Aim of RunBritain

To make British Road Running the best in the world in terms of organisation, development and performance

Our goals

To Build Participation

We want to:

- Engage more runners
- Leave more money in the hands of race organisers to grow and improve their events
- Raise funds and re-invest in road running

Our goals

To Promote events

- Online race directories with cheapest online entry in the market
- A universally-recognised quality kite-mark
- Marketing packs for races
- Promote the vision of road running in schools and communities not currently involved
- Keep runners engaged on a daily basis
- Increase membership of affiliated running clubs by communicating the benefits to runners via the website
- Online social networks

Our goals

To Support Event Development:

- Take leadership on standards including medical, safety standards for runners and spectators
- Training and qualification of race organisers
- A race director qualification
- Online learning resources (RDP)
- Training for marshals
- Sharing of best practices
- Race organiser's forums
- Race organiser's newsletter

Our goals

To Improve High Performance

Investment to support three key strands:

- Coach Development
- Competition
- Athlete Support

What is www.realbuzzrunbritain.com?

- A new and totally free website aimed at beginners, intermediate and advanced runners. It will enable a large number of the Run Britain goals to be achieved.
- It's a place for runners to meet, interact, exchange stories and give each other help and advice using the latest social networking technology
- It will have all UKA licensed events listed and searchable, using every criteria possible. A 'cost efficient' online entry system is ready for launch allowing runners to enter as many events as they wish there and then. The system will maximise returns for race organisers.

What is www.realbuzzrunbritain.com?

- It's a place for runners and charities to find each other.
- It includes cutting edge training support tools, such as the route planner, 'find a training partner' and running club locator.
- Thousands of pages of running articles are available in six sections.
- All profits will be re-invested into British road running
